STORE-IT

Storage jar

STORE-IT storage jars are designed to store dry foods such as oats, pasta and grains in the kitchen. The minimalist, cylindrical design does not take up much space in a drawer, cabinet or on the shelf, and the transparent glass makes it easy and quick to determine the contents. The silicone ring ensures airtight lid closure so that the contents do not emit odours or absorb flavours from other food products. The jars can also be used in the fridge to store jam, chutney or leftovers.

CUT-IT

Chopping boards

Design and material selection are taken to a higher level with the CUT-IT cutting board designed by Søren Refsgaard. It is made of FSC-certified fibre wood, which is a material with many benefits; it is antibacterial, does not dull your knives, and perhaps most importantly, it can go in the dishwasher. The cutting board can easily be sanded and oiled if it becomes worn and greyish over time.

With the CUT-IT cutting board, you get a durable work tool for the kitchen. The hole in the corner is a distinctive design detail that also makes it possible to hang the cutting board on a hook so that it is at hand. It is a well-thought-out and minimalistic design—inevitably a new everyday favourite for the kitchen.

GRATE-IT

Grater with container

Smart grater with container and lid. GRATE-IT consists of a container with a lid and two graters: coarse and fine. The grater makes easy work of carrots, apples, vegetables and cheese. The grated product collects neatly in the integrated storage box instead of ending up all over the countertop. If you grate more than you need, the grater comes with a lid so that the excess veggies or cheese can easily be stored in the fridge without having to transfer it to another container. The graters are dishwasher safe, while the box itself is best washed by hand.

HOLD-ON Pot holders

The HOLD-ON is a modern silicone pot holder and table trivet all in one. Søren Refsgaard is the designer behind the pot holder and he was inspired by the Japanese folding technique origami when he created the pattern. Avoid burnt fingers—the pot holder's structure ensures a good grip on pots and pans, and contains even more heat insulation than conventional cloth pot holders and oven mitts. HOLD-ON pot holders can also be used as smart table trivets under hot dishes. And they are easy to clean; wash them in a washing up bowl or dishwasher for a hygienically clean result.

PIP

Serving jug

The PIP serving jug for water and other cold drinks is designed for easy opening and closure using one hand. The functionality of the lid's construction originated from a game of origami. This is a process that often inspires the designer, Søren Refsgaard in the initial phase of his design process. The shape of the spout and the movement of the open/close function are reminiscent of the beak of a hungry bird—hence the slightly humorous name 'PIP' (Danish for 'tweet').

The PIP serving jug fits perfectly in most refrigerator doors.

DRINK-IT

Drinking bottle 0.75 and 0.5 L

DRINK-IT helps you keep track of your fluid balance. Whether you are biking, go hiking or simply are on the go, water is incredibly important. A fluid loss of only 1-2% of the body weight can lower your performance by 10-20%, so be sure to drink plenty of water. With DRINK-IT in your bag, you avoid spontaneous purchases of bottled water, thus contributing positively to the environment. The drinking bottle is free of BPA and phthalates.

BUDDY

Lunch box

Practical lunchbox in stainless steel with different compartments in a bento box style. The lunchbox consists of one large compartment with an extra divider, and one smaller separate compartment. The multiple compartments make it possible to pack and arrange different parts of your lunch separately without using any unnecessary clingfilm or tinfoil. This helps protect the environment from disposable material that is otherwise just used once and then discarded. The lunchbox is secured with metal clasps that are easy to open and close—even for children—and features a small practical handle on top.

PICNIC

Cake pan with lid

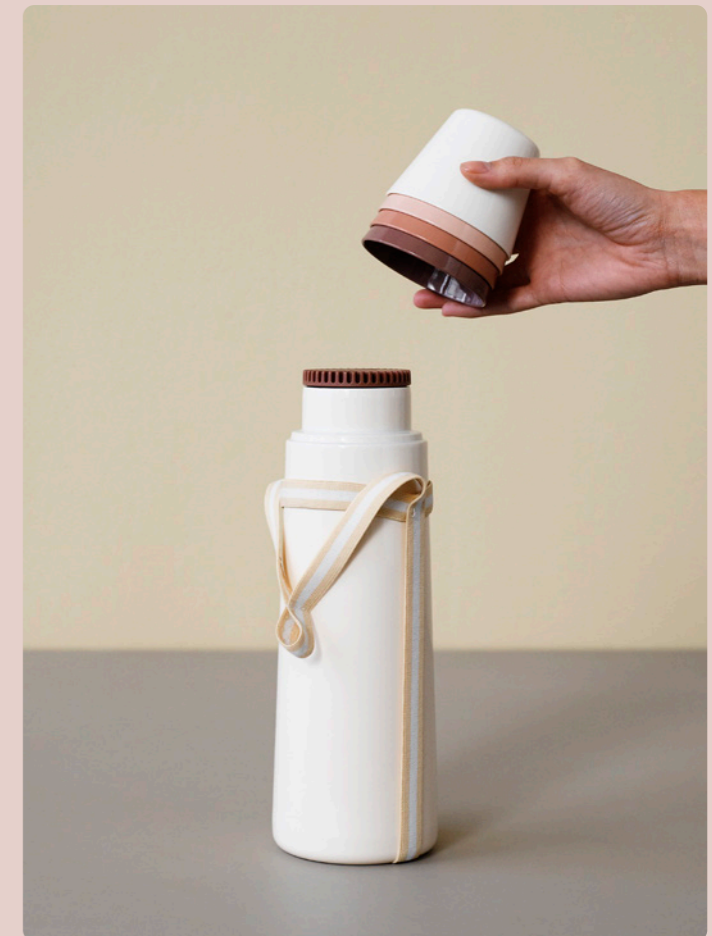

PICNIC cake pan with lid is perfect for trips to the beach or the forest. The cake pan has a non-stick coating, making it hassle-free to get the cake out of the pan. If you put the lid on, it is easy to bring the cake with you without first having to cut it into smaller pieces and put them in other storage boxes. This saves on the dishes. An elastic band keeps the cake pan and lid together when not in use. When you return home, leftovers can be stored in the fridge in the cake pan with the lid on, or the two parts can just be placed in the dishwasher.

Moomin RIG-TIGX

RIG-TIG is proud to support Moomin Characters Ltd's mission to spark a love for reading and writing. The Moomins and their friends are a curious bunch of characters that like to explore their surroundings. Their key values, including adventure, freedom, and respect for nature, make the collaboration a perfect match.

MOOMIN ABC Cup

Being able to express yourself is one of the most important things in the world: it allows you to communicate your hopes and dreams, relate to others, engage with the big issues of our times, and create change. The alphabets created for the collection are all based on Tove Jansson's original lettering. The Moomin ABC cup comes in 26 versions, each with a letter from A to Z and one of the quirky and fun characters from the world of the Moomins depicted on the side of the cup. The cup contains 0.2 l and is made of ABS plastic, which is extremely robust. If you have a toddler, a sippy lid for the cup in the colors 'salmon' or 'turquoise' can be bought separately. Both cup and sippy lid are dishwasher safe and are naturally free of BPA, phthalates and other harmful substances.
